By HappyDaisyAZ Just received my Kindle download this morning - I pre-ordered this and had forgotten so it was a happy e-surprise for me! I've been a follower of Jenny and Aaron's blog, Everyday is a Holiday, for about a year so when I heard they had a book in the works, I was super excited. I love their dreamy, vintage-y style and yummy pastel palette. I also love their sweet personalities so I was happy to see them shining thru in the book as well. When I ordered the book, I was just hoping for some visual candy and would have been happy with some close ups of Jenny and Aaron's art. What I received in the book was so much more. I was pleasantly surprised when I realized there were easy to understand step-by-step instructions (along with amazing photos) for adorable projects. I was learning new techniques in the first project! I especially appreciate the detailed supply lists for each project as well as a resource list at the end. I am very happy with this purchase and would recommend it to anyone who appreciates Jenny and Aaron's artistic style - no matter your level of experience in creating mixed media art. Thanks to their guidance, all the projects seem very doable. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. For All Vintage Crafty Lovers of Pastels with Black Whites! OooOooOOOooh!!! By Raynebow Ocean I have been following Jenny Holiday (Heid) Aaron for seven years! I adore their flair, finesse and color palette to a hilt! Aqua and pink are also my FAVORITE COLORS! I feel so connected because I dream in vintage black cream with pastels all the time. I'm over the moon to find artists with this same theme too! I so closely relate to Jenny's Aaron's style and love everything they post! Was tickled AquaPink to see they published their own mixed media book! I rec'd it shipped from Las Vegas in 24 hours! I couldn't believe how fast! I have been gazing into it everyday for a week! I make many of my own vintagey crafts and with their techniques I'm learning so much more! I want to make faux cakes for all my girly friends' birthdays now with my own twist! I'm so motivated to increase my crafting these days and their book couldn't have arrived at a better time! I feel this period on the planet to be a Renaissance for all who are living in the Light by creating LOVE BEAUTY with every breath. This is what these too pro crafters do everyday! They share INSPIRATION BEAUTIFUL NOTIONS! To me this is what life is all about: CAPTIVATING DELIGHTFUL CREATION! Thank you Jenny Aaron! You both are incredibly dear to me! PLEASE ALWAYS KEEP CREATING! :o) Much LUV WARM HUGGS from Pacific Beach! xoxo 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Book Review By Marion If I could give more than 5 stars I would. Jenny Aaron created an amazing art book which happens to be my favorite Christmas present! I could literally sit and look at the pages over and over again. There are colorful photos on every page with extremely clear directions on how to achieve these projects on your own. I was close to giving up on mixed media art until I discovered their blog, "Everyday is a Holiday." This is what I had been looking for for so long but could never find it in other books. Mixed Media Masterpieces is so attractive to look at that it just might end up being a coffee table book at home. The colors just make me happy, the style is achievable for anyone to do at home. This is a book that you should definitely add to your collection!!!

I was smitten with Jenny and Aaron's design work from the moment I first spotted it. Not only do they stay true to their talents and brand, they keep growing and evolving. They are ones to watch! Cathie Filian, Emmy-nominated host of Creative Juice on HGTV, producer of Craft Wars on TLC, and bestselling author Jenny and Aaron are two of the most talented folks we know. We are super proud to hang so many pieces of their artwork on our bakery walls because it always makes us smile - and our customers love it too! Cheryl and Griffith Day, authors of The Back in the Day Bakery Cookbook Jenny and Aaron have stuck to their dreams and followed a sweet path they know is true to their hearts. [They] take (and make) the cake always have, always will. Jane Dagmi, HGTV Remodels, Designing Spaces About the Author Jenny Heid and Aaron Nieradka are the artists behind the popular crafting blog, Everyday is a Holiday. Their designs have been sold at top retailers such as Michaels, Barnes and Noble and Paper Source. They reside on the Jersey Shore.
