Beware of the green splotchesBy LovetoshopBeautiful pictures that are spoiled by green splotches and pictures that are partially colored in green. I don't like green toenails on an elephant or green beaks on birds. I can almost handle the green coloring of items but the splotches just ruin the pictures for me. It is like a paint brush was loaded with green paint and then left to drip on the page. I will use this book to possibly practice techniques or test the colors of markers or maybe just put the book in the goodwill box. Someone may enjoy this book, but not me.
